1. Mondrian Lego Art

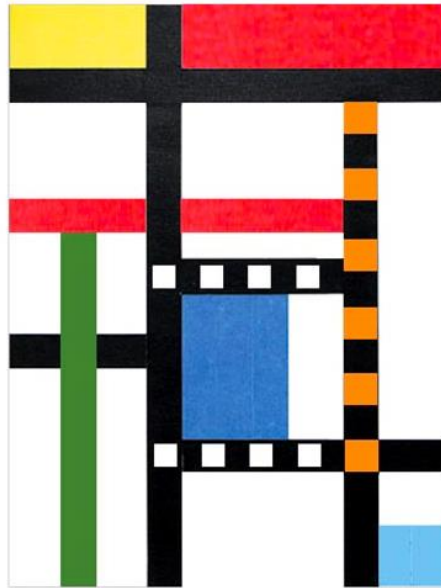

The geometric nature and primary colors of Mondrian's art lends itself perfectly to Lego bricks! Mama Miss comes up with this ingenious idea and creates some simple printables for the same. Just download them, gather your bricks and go!

2. Pattern Sticks

6. Masking Tape Art

Who would think that a bunch of sticky tape in different colors could create art? That's exactly what this project from United Art & Education does! This is a simple, mess-free project perfect for a lazy weekend!
